

Price List Formatting Help

By default price lists are displayed with the text centred in the window. This is beneficial when you use plain text for price lists (ie no HTML).

When using HTML you may want greater control of text positioning. To achieve this, create a table, width 100%, with a single cell, then place your price list text within this cell. Text within the cell will then be left-aligned.

To create a single cell table use the table editor (click the icon). Alternatively click the Source button to enter source editing mode, copy the HTML below and paste it into the Source window. Finally click the Source button again to return to normal mode.

For more information on the text editor see Text Editor Help.

<table cellpadding="1" cellspacing="1" width="100%" align="center" border="0">
  <tbody>
    <tr>
      <td>
      </td>
    </tr>
  </tbody>
</table>
```
